COMMENTS

1. Need for This Bill

According to the author:

Leveraging the state's investments, the North Orange County Collaborative has shown significant promise in aligning and coordinating the efforts of ten local law enforcement across their shared geography, while simultaneously enlisting and funding more than 40 local community-based organizations with experience and expertise in treating the underlying causes of these complex challenges. It was originally established through the 2017-18 state budget act with an appropriation of $20 million across its first four years. The Collaborative, which initially included six cities, was subsequently expanded to include eleven cities in Northern Orange County, after receiving an additional $7.8 million allocation in last year's budget to fund its operation through the end of the current fiscal year.

Under the design of the collaborative model, of the overall funding provided by the state, 40% is allocated for use by law enforcement to improve and enhance their homeless and community liaison efforts, with the remaining 60% of funds distributed among community-based organizations on an RFP/grant basis to fund specific programs deemed effective or promising at addressing the needs of a particular population. By virtue of this deliberately multi-dimensional approach, the Collaborative has become a laboratory for innovative and focused action throughout the eleven-member cities. Community-based organizations and law enforcement have stopped working in silos and instead are working in coordination to help individuals in the region.

Some examples of results and programs enabled by North OC Collaborative funding:

- Conducted the county's first Homeless Census Report by generating a by-name registry of unsheltered individuals. To date, the Collaborative has allowed more than 3,962 people to exit the streets and secure housing in the North Orange County region.
- Funded 33 targeted programs for youth that include family counseling, supportive services, tutoring, group and individual counseling, classes, and mentoring programs.
- Provided housing and other supportive services for formerly incarcerated university students through the Project Rebound Initiative, where 91% of individuals in the program achieve career-path placements within one year and where rates of recidivism have been zero.
- Created a mobile data management and referral tool called Outreach Grid, which provides North Orange County outreach staff, law enforcement officers, and community-based organizations with real-time capabilities to assess needs and make referrals for services, including instantly identifying available shelter beds for unhoused individuals and families.
- Directed funding to shelters and housing navigation centers including the Fullerton HOPE Center, a regional hub for effectively coordinating homeless services.
- The Collaborative has proven itself an innovative, regional model to improve public safety and reduce homelessness that may be replicated in clusters of small and medium-sized cities across California.

2. North Orange County Public Safety Task Force

The North Orange County Public Safety Task Force was established in the 2017-2018 Budget Act which appropriated $20 million to be awarded by the Board of State and Community Corrections equally over a four-year period. The Task Force initially included six cities and was later expanded to 11 cities. The legislation required the Task Force to establish a coordinating and advisory council to prioritize the use of the funds and required membership to include city officials, local law enforcement, local education agencies, community-based organizations, and local residents. The funds were required to be used for the purpose of violence prevention, intervention, and suppression activities. More specifically, the legislation authorized the funds to be used for a variety of programs, services, and activities designed to reduce violence, such as programs to address youth violence prevention and intervention, programs to promote and enhance the successful reentry of offenders into the community, and programs to address homeless outreach and intervention. The legislation additionally mandated that at least 60% of the funds went to community-based organizations.

The advisory council is made up of representatives of Anaheim, Brea, Buena Park, Cypress, Fullerton, La Habra, La Palma, Orange, Placentia, Stanton, and Yorba Linda. Funded organizations include The YMCA, Boys and Girls Clubs, Anaheim Cops 4 Kids, Waymakers, Pathways of Hope, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Orange County, and Homeless Intervention Services of Orange County, among others.

The Task Force's 2020 Annual Report details the types of programs that were funded during the 2019-2020 fiscal year. (North Orange County Public Safety Task Force, Annual Report to the Legislature, August 2020 available at <https://www.nocpublicsafety.com/\_files/ugd/914d32\_9f7bc72343494c2fbc50a5c7528d63e3.pdf>.) During the 2019-2020 fiscal year, five million dollars was awarded to 49 community-based organizations. The report notes that although most of the funds were directed toward programming, a portion was set aside to develop programs, workshops, and trainings to build the capacity of funded organizations to engage in more effective planning, collaboration, management, and evaluation, among other things.

As stated above, the Task Force funded organizations that provide services to address youth violence, offender reentry, or homelessness. During the Task Force's third year, a variety of homeless prevention and intervention programs were funded, including those that provided classes to participants, case management, individual and group therapy, referrals for services such as job training and financial counseling, and rental assistance. The report indicates that in the first three quarters of the 2019-2020 fiscal year, nearly 1,200 individuals were placed in shelter, 131 individuals were reunited with and moved back home with their family, 79 individuals were placed in permanent supportive housing, 439 individuals were placed in some other type of supportive housing, 86 individuals gained part-time employment, and 147 individuals gained full-time employment. (Id. at pp. 9-12.) With respect to reentry programs, six programs were funded that primarily offered mentoring, case management, life skills training, and other types of training. The report indicates that in the first three quarters of the third year that the Task Force received funding, an average of 463 individuals attended reentry programs on a daily basis and 114 individuals gained full-time or part-time employment. (Id. at pp. 18-19.) Finally, 33 of the 49 organizations funded during the Task Force's third year provided programming related to youth violence prevention or intervention. The most common types of services provided by those programs were mentoring, classes, outreach, individual and group counseling, supportive services, recreational activities, and family counseling. Funded programs primarily served middle school and high school age students. The report indicates that in the first three quarters of the third year that the Task Force received funding, funded programs accepted a total of 13,961 new participants, approximately 6,957 individuals were served daily, and 3,605 participants graduated from or completed one of the programs. (Id. at pp. 26-27.)

This bill seeks to make the North Orange County Public Safety Task Force permanent, renaming it as the North Orange County Public Safety Collaborative. The requirements to establish a coordinating and advisory board, fund specific types of programs, and distribute at least 60% of the funds to community-based organizations remain under the provisions of the bill. This bill additionally creates the Central Coast Public Safety Collaborative with the same requirements but does not yet include participant cities. Finally, this bill includes a provision appropriating $16 million to the Collaboratives and states the intent of the Legislature to provide that amount annually in ongoing funding.
